

RAPID CORTEX

Competitive Landscape — 1-Page Summary

Core (911/PSAP) and Venue & University, side by side

CONFIDENTIAL — ADVISORY BOARD

CORE — 911 / PUBLIC SAFETY ANSWERING POINT

Competitor	Scale / backing	Offering	vs. Rapid Cortex
RapidSOS	$450M+ raised; 22,000+ agencies	Device-data network + AI triage (Harmony)	Data layer, not a dispatcher console — possible integration partner
Axon 911 (Carbyne + Prepared)	Axon paid $625M for Carbyne (closing Q1 2026)	Cloud call-handling + AI, tied to Axon Evidence	Clearest full-stack “replace CAD” competitor
Motorola Solutions	Public co.; dominant CAD/NG911 incumbent	CAD, call-handling, recording (Exacom)	Deepest incumbent relationships; also owns Rave — see below
CentralSquare / Tyler	Established public-sector vendors	Legacy CAD/RMS + agentic AI add-ons	AI add-ons compete inside Rapid Cortex’s existing-account pitch
Mark43	Venture-backed, cloud-native	Cloud CAD/RMS	Closer to a CAD replacement than a complement

VENUE & UNIVERSITY

Competitor	Backing	Offering	Report method	vs. Rapid Cortex
Rave Mobile Safety	Owned by Motorola Solutions	Guardian app, AppArmor tips, Panic Button alerts	App + account	Most direct, most resourced competitor
STOPit Solutions	Independent	Anonymous reporting + 24/7 staffed Incident Response Center	App / web	Strong on triage; narrower (bullying/harassment)
Navigate360 (P3 Campus)	Independent rollup	Tip line + broader threat-assessment suite	App / web / phone	Deep in K-12 workflow; less venue/stadium focus
SaferWatch	Independent	Reporting + mass notification + panic alerts	App	Positions as broad multi-sector
Omnilert / Regroup / Everbridge	Independent (each)	Mass notification (outbound alerting)	App / SMS / email	Outbound-first — often the ENS Rapid Cortex integrates alongside
Centegix	Independent	Wearable panic-button hardware + RTLS	Hardware badge	Hardware-first; complementary, not competitive

Cross-cutting name to watch: Motorola Solutions is the only competitor active in both halves of the business — dominant in Core through its own CAD/NG911 platform, and present in Venue & University through its Rave acquisition.
